

ARMY MEN ARE EVERYWHERE RUSHING PREPARATIONS

As Armies Face Each Other on Opposite Banks of the Historic Rio Grande, Secretary Lansing Presents Note to Mexican Ambassador Designate.

Position of This Nation Clearly Defined and Purpose Emphatically Stated—Responsibility for Consequences Placed on Carranza.

"Reluctant to Believe" Lansing Says That No Real Attempt Has Been Made to Capture the Villa Bandits By the De Facto Forces.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, June 20.—The American note flatly rejecting General Carranza's demand for the withdrawal of United States troops from Mexico and rebuking the Carranza Government for the discourteous tone and temper of its last communication was handed today to Alvaro Arredondo, the Mexican Ambassador designate.

The purpose of the United States government toward Mexico, questioned in the last Mexican note is announced in the following language: "If a denial is needed that this government has had ulterior and improper motives in its diplomatic presentations or has countenanced activities of American sympathizers, and the American press openly gloried in the de facto Government, I am glad, most emphatically, to deny it."

"It is, however, a matter of common knowledge that the Mexican government has been more active than the United States in endeavoring to inflame the two peoples against each other, and to force the two countries into hostilities. While this government would deeply regret such a result," the note says, "it cannot recede from its determination to maintain national rights and to perform its full duty in preventing further invasion of the territory of the United States and in removing the peril which Americans along the international boundary have borne so long with patience and forbearance."

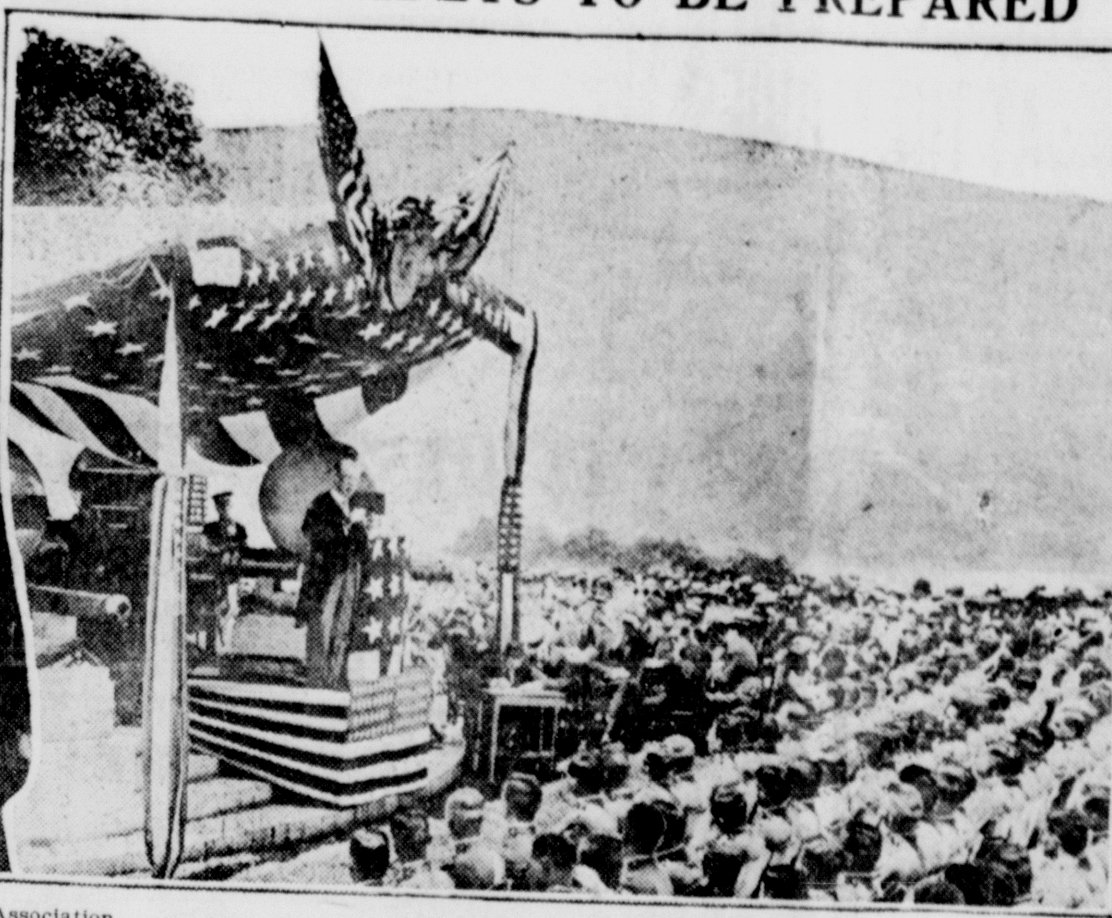

Secretary Lansing continues: "I am reluctant to be forced to the conclusion which might be drawn from circumstances that the de facto Government, in spite of the promises committed and the sinister designs of Villa and his followers, did not and does not now intend or desire that these outlaws should be captured, destroyed or dispersed by American troops, or at the request of this Government, by Mexican troops."

It concluded with the statement that if the de facto Government continues to ignore its obligation and carries out its threat to defend its territory by an appeal to arms against the American troops, the gravest consequences will follow.

Whether the result will mean war depends upon the Mexicans and General Carranza is informed citizens of both nations apparently are preparing for war.

Opposing military forces are facing each other in the border region today. Mobilization of the National Guard in every state was being rushed today.

General Carranza, in a speech at Mexico City, however, has expressed hope that hostilities may be avoided.

An ultimatum, said to be virtually a declaration of war, has been served on Commander Kavanaugh of the United States gunboat Annapolis by General Flores, Carranza governor of the state of Sinaloa, it is reported to military authorities.

The hostile stand grew out of Sunday at Mazatlan.

The Mexican government troops were reported last night marching on Del Rio, 100 miles up the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, with the intention of attacking American troops.

AMERICANS SLAUGHTERED

Brownsville, Texas, June 20.—Passengers arriving at Matamoros, opposite here today reported a rumor was current in Monterey that a party of Americans at Cerralvo, an isolated mining town in Nuevo Leon, were massacred by Mexicans.

Many Ohio Troops May Not Tarry at Columbus, But Hurry at Once to the Border—Change of Plans at Hand.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., June 20.—That a complete change in the Ohio National Guard mobilization plans will be necessary, as a result of General Funston's call today for a large part of the militia for immediate duty on the Mexican border, was the general expectation at the office of the Adjutant General.

However, no new orders have been issued, and Adjutant General Hough said that it was too early to make any statement as to which regiments and troops would be dispatched from Ohio first.

ADJUTANT GENERAL HOUGH Says Camp Will Soon Be Ready to Receive Troops.

Ohio guard officers are predicting that the Buckeye state guard will get its war footing quota of men as quickly, if not more so, than any other state.

In every community where there is a military company, young men are flocking to the recruiting stations and volunteering for service.

Strenuous efforts are being made to place Camp Willis, the mobilization camp here, in readiness to receive the first out of town troops, expected to arrive Thursday.

Railroad companies have been in close touch with the Adjutant General and announce that they are ready to co-operate in any way in the quick movement of troops to the concentration camp here and from here to the Mexican border.

The Adjutant General announced today that guardsmen will be unable to "buy out" of the army until after they have served a year in the regular army.

The Ohio guardsmen will be mustered into the regular army as soon as they arrive at Columbus.

MOBILIZATION OF GUARDSMEN SATISFACTORY

Congress and Cabinet Slow to Transfer Men to Foreign Service Field, Fearing Effect Will Be Misconstrued.

Washington, June 20.—In congress today steps were being taken to render the National Guardsmen ready for any duty that may come by the adoption of a resolution making immediately effective certain sections of the new army reorganization bill.

Reports to the War Department indicate that mobilization is proceeding satisfactorily.

After a Cabinet meeting Secretary Lansing said no new steps had been decided upon and that the situation was unchanged.

Administration leaders in Congress decided not to seek immediate action on a resolution providing for making the National Guard eligible for foreign service, fearing that such a step now might be construed as a warlike act.

It was stated that the destroyers are under orders to overtake the San Diego.

AMERICANS MASSACRED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Douglas, Arizona, June 20.—(Bulletin)—During anti-American demonstrations at Cananea, Mexico, the American flag, over the consulate in charge of Consul W. A. Julian, was made the target for hundreds of Mexican bullets Saturday night, according to American refugees arriving here today.

It is reported that Americans were taken from a train near Monteray and killed.

ENTRAIN ORDER EXPECTED SOON

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 20.—General Funston's request for National Guardsmen reached the War Department after noon and resulted in telegraphing request for information as to when the forces of certain states would be able to move.

Orders for entrainment of units ready for service were expected before night.

General Funston did not make public the exact number requested, but said he had asked for enough to provide "adequate protection" of the border.

He also withheld the names of the stations to which the guardsmen would be sent, although admitting that a considerable force would be mobilized at San Antonio.

THINGS DOING AT THE MOVIES

PALACE.
 "The Eternal Sappho," is the title of the latest Theda Bara starred Fox release and may be seen at the Palace Tuesday. This is said to be one of the most elaborately conducted plays of recent Fox production.
 Lillian Walker, with both of those famous dimples working at capacity, arrives Wednesday in "Mrs. Dane's Danger," a cracking good Vita with a comedy accompaniment designated "Bittersweet."
 Thursday the Palace presents the celebrated screen favorite, Maurice Costello, and other eminent Vitagraph stars, in "The Man That Couldn't Beat God," a startling drama of weird and tense situations worthy of the pen of the great Poe.
 Friday Theda Bara returns in "The Serpent."
 Saturday—Pathe News and varied program.

COLONIAL.
 It is the general opinion of the studios that no stage star leaving the boards for the screen has proved adaptable to the requirements of the camera with greater readiness and ease than William Collier, who comes here Monday and Tuesday in the Triangle ripper, "The No-Good Guy." Collier is the title performer in the play, which concerns the many and triumphant adventures of a dissipated young son of wealth after he has been ordered to work or starve and who chooses to employ himself as a detective. Enid Markley supports Collier.
 House Peters, hero of "The Great Divide" and a number of other screen masterpieces shown here, appears at the Colonial Wednesday in "The Hand of Peril," a late World offering of unusual dramatic force written by the well known author of stories of the underworld, Arthur Stringer.

Douglas Fairbanks, the prince of pep, reputed to be the liveliest man in the movies, is the feature figure for Thursday and Friday appearing in "The Good-Bad Man," a seething western, assisted Bessie Love, pretty star who supported William S. Hart in "The Aryan."

WONDERLAND.
 For Wednesday of this week the Wonderland announces the presentation of the highly successful Paramount play "Jane," whose reputation lies in the incomparable skill of the talented star-team, Greenwood and Grant.
 Lou Tellegan, who has completely eclipsed during his short engagement in screen play his notable achievements before the footlights, comes again to Washington Friday, appearing in "The Unknown." Mr. Tellegan's work in "The Explorer," which showed here a few weeks ago, created wide attention.
 During the rest of the week the Wonderland will offer its usual program, with perhaps a feature Saturday.

Mobilization Camp Near Columbus Will Soon Be Ready to Receive Troops—Recruiting to Maximum War Strength Proceeding Everywhere—Soldiers May Remain in Training For a Month.

Columbus, June 20.—Awaiting orders to entrain for the state mobilization camp near this city, 6,500 Ohio militiamen are under arms. Recruiting to maximum war strength, which will raise the number of troops to 12,000, is proceeding everywhere in the state.

The mobilization camp, which probably will be named Camp Willis, is expected to be ready to receive troops Thursday or Friday, according to Adjutant General Hough. Orders to move will begin soon after that, regiment by regiment, so that the camp may be a tented military city by the close of the week.

It is expected that the troops may remain in training here for a month or more before being ordered to the concentration camp, which may be at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Engineering and surveying work at the mobilization camp has been completed. The installation of a water and sewage system was begun by the city. Street railway lines reach the camp. There will be no erection of tents, General Hough said, until after the troops arrive. The various troop units will put up their own tents.

In Case of War With Mexico

Should all of the sincere endeavors of this nation to avoid conflict with the de facto government of Mexico prove to be of no avail and, either through the ignorance or the treachery of the Carranza officials, war is precipitated upon the United States the problem is a tremendous one.

Intervention in Mexico and war with all of the factions either united under one standard or separately, means, judging from present conditions, not only a long drawn out conflict, costly in life and treasure, but it means policing and garrisoning the entire country.

The Carranza forces finally compelled, by the power of the United States armies, to see the right and do the right, will be, perhaps, more impotent to maintain a real government in Mexico than they are at this time.

It means that after the close of the conflict there will be no established government in Mexico with which to agree upon a future course and with which treaty rights can be stat- ed and guaranteed.

The usual horrible conditions of war will be complicated by the, now apparent, necessity to take over the problem of government and work it out for the Mexican people.

The tremendous scope of such a task may be partially realized when we remember the turmoil and anarchy that has reigned in Mexico for years past.

A conflict in Mexico is one not to be entered into without full appreciation of its enormity but, it seems now, there is no other way out.

The Carranza forces cannot or will not join in our effort to break up the reign of terror and that condition having become a menace to the lives and property of American citizens even on this side of the international boundary line, there is but one course open to the United States.

It seems now that only an awakening of the de facto government can prevent a costly and long drawn out conflict on the far side of the Rio Grande river.

Czernowitz Taken

Czernowitz, the capital of the Austrian crownland, Bukovina, has been captured by the Russians.

The fall of Czernowitz has been reported a number of times during the last week, but now the claims of the Petrograd war office, in that regard, are officially admitted by Vienna.

The effect is important, mainly in that it means a breaking up the Austrian lines and the capture of positions of strategic importance in the Balkan campaign especially. It means that Bulgaria is once more menaced by the Russian armies, that Turkey in Europe has failed to receive the full measure of protection promised by the Central powers and that wavering Roumania and Greece, fearing the mailed fist of the Teuton, are free to cast their fortunes with the Entente powers if they desire to do so.

It means also that Russia has once more obtained a foothold on Austrian soil and is, once again checked only by the towering heights of the Carpathians from a rush into Austria proper.

Doubtless the attempt now will be to push back the Kaiser's forces in Russian Poland. But perhaps that prophecy may result from the memory of the former advance and Russian may, after all, continue to press forward upon the lines of demonstrated weakness.

The Traffic Laws

For their own comfort and safety—for their own "peace of mind"—as well as for the safety and comfort of other people, everyone who drives a vehicle should obtain, read and study carefully the traffic laws of the state and the ordinances of the municipality in which they live.

There are certain explicit state laws now governing traffic on the highways of the state and in the populous communities which are broad enough to provide for almost every contingency and if observed carefully will insure the vehicle driver against a crash in the congested districts or a decidedly unpleasant "run in" with the authorities.

Washington folks have learned, by absorption, some very important features about our own traffic ordinances. Vehicle drivers know now that they must go to the corners to turn and that they must keep to the right. Most of them know about tail lights, too.

The fact that almost every driver who approaches a street crossing does so hesitatingly and, if two approach a crossing together, there is either a narrow escape or a great deal of keying to see whose move it is, is because neither driver is exactly sure about his privileges and his duties.

The state laws regulate traffic at intersections and each driver should know just what his duties are and act accordingly and without hesitation.

Traffic on the streets and highways has increased so tremendously in the last decade that regulation became imperative. Now that regulation has come the need for the drivers to familiarize themselves with those regulations just as imperative.

Poetry For Today

THE REVELLE

Hark, I hear the tramp of thousands,
 And of armed men the hum;
 Lo! a nation's hosts have gathered
 Round the quick alarming drum
 Saying, 'Come,
 Freemen, come!
 Ere your heritage be wasted," said
 the quick alarming drum.

"Let me of my heart take counsel:
 War is not of life the sun;
 Who shall stay and reap the harvest
 When the autumn days shall come?"

But the drum
 Echoed, Come.
 Death shall reap the braver harvest,"
 said the solemn-sounding drum.

"But when won the coming battle,
 What of profit springs therefrom?
 What of conquest subjugation,
 Even greater ills become?"

But the drum
 Answered "Come!
 You must do the sum to prove it,"
 said the Yankee-answering drum.

"What if, 'mid the cannon's thunder
 Whistling shot and bristling bomb
 When my brothers fall around me,
 Should my heart grow cold and numb?"

But the drum
 Answered, "Come!
 Better there in death united than in life a recreant. Come!"

Thus they answered—hoping, fearing,
 Some in faith and doubting some,
 Till a trumpet-voice proclaiming
 Said, "My chosen people come!"

Then the drum,
 Lo! was dumb,
 For the great heart of the nation,
 throbbing, answered, "Lord, we come!"

MORE MEN WANTED AT ONCE FOR DUTY WITH COMPANY M

Company Now Composed of Nearly Four Score Officers and Men—Seventy at Armory Tuesday Morning—Three Members Cannot Be Located—Recruits Urged to Waste No Time.

Company M is still marking time at the Armory in this city, and will probably not be ordered to Columbus until late Wednesday or early Thursday morning, at which time Captain Hardway expects to have between 75 and 100 men in line.

Early Tuesday morning the total number of officers and men at the armory was 70, and a number of recruits were in view for the day, so that the number was expected to reach 80 or more when the enlistments are all in for the day.

A number who had previously seen service have enlisted, and still others are hesitating but are expected to "fall in" before the company takes its departure for Columbus. All are confident of seeing some active service on the Mexican border, and the Ohio troops will be among the first sent to the border, it is stated.

Fifteen men from Company A, Greenfield, recently disbanded, have enlisted in Company M. Several well known Greenfielders are included in the number.

Up to Tuesday morning three men of the company could not be located, having taken up work in other cities. If these men do not make their place of abode known they may be subjected to court martial similar to that suffered by a number of Guards who failed to respond when the guards of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona were recently called to the colors.

At the present time the men are taking their meals at local restaurants, and will continue to do so while here. Most of the men slept in the Armory, Monday night, although a number residing in the city were allowed to sleep at home. All men are held at the Armory during the day.

Meanwhile Sergeants are busy drilling the awkward squads, and all men are being drilled several hours each day.

The men are being drilled on the streets of the city, and the work, a new departure and something not seen since the stirring days of the Spanish American War, is attracting a great deal of attention.

Major Rell G. Allen was home from Columbus for a few hours Monday evening, but returned on the night train for duty at headquarters.

The opportunity now exists for all men who have been awaiting the call to actual service before enlisting.

All men who expect to enlist are urged to do so within the next 4 hours so that when Company M departs for Columbus it will contain as large a number as possible.

LICENSE REFUSED GIRL UNDER AGE

Jesse Moore, farmer, aged 21 years, of Elmwood, Indiana, and Sylvia Paugh, 16, also of Elmwood, came to this city Monday to make their future home, and to marry.

They applied at the probate judge's office and when it was learned that the girl was under age, a non-resident and that her father was not here to give his consent, a license was refused, and the couple took their departure for Indiana to obtain a license and consent of the girl's father.

Both were greatly worried when they learned that a license could not be obtained here.

PRICE'S BAND ENGAGED FOR FOURTH OF JULY

The program committee for the July 4th celebration closed the contract with Price's Premier Band of Greenfield Tuesday morning, whereby this noted musical organization will furnish music for the patriotic preparedness parade and give a concert on the Court House lawn in the evening.

All organizations in the city and county are giving the committee instant and hearty co-operation for the success of the big parade. The Red Men have pledged the participation of the Washington Camp, together with all the other camps of the county, in not only the parade, but also an "Indian Trail" pageant for the evening. The Modern Woodmen will probably assist in this performance.

C. H. & D. STRIKE BECOMING SERIOUS

The strike of section men on the C. H. & D. railroad is becoming more serious, due to a sympathetic strike of bridge men of the local division of the road.

Thirty-five bridge men on the division have struck, not for higher wages, but in sympathy.

A conference is being held between the company officials and representatives of the strikers, in Cincinnati. So far no strike breakers have been employed, and it is expected that a speedy settlement will be reached, if not new men may be employed.

The local section men are still out.

MAKING PLANS FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Mr. Earl L. Mast, the advance advertising man for the Washington C. H. Chautauqua is in the city.

The Chautauqua will open on July 20th, and will run for the next seven days. In the allotment of advertising which Mr. Mast brought with him are the program booklets. These booklets are very attractive and give a glimpse of what a rare treat is in store for patrons of the big chautauqua.

Mr. Wm. McClain, chairman of the committee, is in receipt of a telegram from Eugene B. Fisher, Secretary of the Lakewood, Ohio, committee. Mr. Fisher stated that their chautauqua closed Saturday night. Nearly four thousand people were in attendance to hear the San Carlo Grand Opera Co., in spite of the rain. They reported a season ticket sale of $3,000. Mr. Fisher reported the chautauqua program as the greatest ever given. It is similar to that of the Washington Chautauqua.

The superintendent in charge of the local chautauqua will be Mr. Chas. S. Pulkington. Miss Marguerite T. Bye will have charge of the Junior work which is a new feature this season. The Junior work with its excellent features will no doubt attract a large number of children.

The ticket and advertising committee will meet with Mr. Mast this evening at the office of Mr. Wm. McClain, to discuss ticket campaign and advertising features.

This year the Chautauqua will be held on the north side of the high school ground, where there is ample space for the mammoth tent.

ANIMAL SWIMMERS.

The Best of All, Though Not the Swiftest, is the Polar Bear.

Nearly all animals are better swimmers than man and take to the water naturally, while he has to learn to propel himself. The rhinoceros and hippopotamus are wonderful swimmers and divers, while the Indian elephant crosses great rivers with heavy loads. The elk and the reindeer are first class swimmers. The elk keeps his head above water and crosses directly from bank to bank to avoid turning. The reindeer, on the other hand, turns as often as he likes, keeping his head only a little above the surface.

But of all swimmers of all climes the best, though not the swiftest, is the polar bear, who passes half his time in the water swimming and diving. His swimming power is nothing short of miraculous if it be remembered that the water in the regions he frequents is invariably cold and that cold is normally prohibitive to good swimming. There are bears that can swim from forty to fifty kilometers without great effort.

One of the swiftest swimming animals is the squirrel. A sportsman on one occasion, having at hand a squirrel born in captivity, which had never seen water, wanted to see if it could swim and took it with him in a rowboat to the center of a lake. The squirrel turned toward the bank, head and paws above the water, back and tall underneath it, and began to swim so rapidly that it was with the greatest difficulty that the man recovered it when it reached the shallow water near the land. It is said that even many nonaquatic birds will swim in ducks if an attempt be made to drown them.—Pearson's Weekly.

Tonight they put on a funny farce entitled

In Social Circles

No less enjoyable than any one of the series that has preceded it was the party given by Miss Doris McFadden, Monday night, in compliment to her charming guests, Misses Elizabeth Thomas and Helen Beale of Mt. Sterling and Miss Bernice Logan of Swarthmore, Penn., all of them being school friends of Miss McFadden at Western College.

There were also numbered among the guests a pretty quartette of Wells College girls who make up Miss Dorothy Fullerton's house party and Miss Lillian Davis and her guest from Wilson College. Many pleasant reminiscences of school life added to the zest of the evening.

Miss Logan charmed the company during the evening by her mellow contralto voice and her pleasing personality.

A delicious collation was served in which Mrs. L. M. McFadden assisted her daughter.

Other out of town guests were Miss Esther Dahl, of Duluth, Minn.; Miss Dorothy Land of Richmond, Ind.; Miss Charlotte Flindt of Spencer, Iowa, and Miss Mala Manners, of Frenchtown, N. J. and Mr. Leonard Haines of Bloomingburg.

Mrs. Charles Browne gave a beautiful party Monday afternoon in honor of the first birthday of her youngest son Roy.

It was a family party, the mothers finding it quite necessary to accompany the tiny tots.

The special feature of the party was the birthday feast, for which a most beautifully decorated table had been prepared in the dining room. A pink and white color scheme was carried out in exquisite baskets filled with roses and one pink candle burned on the birthday cake.

The souvenirs were cunning chickens and owls.

Those who participated were: Mrs. George Browne of Cincinnati; Mrs. C. F. Bonham, Mrs. George Worrell and little daughter (Claribel); Mrs. Ralph C. Browne and baby daughter Elizabeth Ann of Cincinnati; Mrs. H. C. Teachnor and daughter Woldeane, Mrs. H. L. Stitt and little son Robert; Mrs. Carl Mallow and May Hammond.

Misses Ho and Yvonne Baker entertained forty young people at a most delightful affair of Saturday evening at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Baker.

A profusion of roses and peonies were beautifully arranged in decoration throughout the rooms.

Clever contests, a variety of games and music had been provided for the pleasure of the guests by the bright young hostesses, and the evening passed all too quickly in a round of merriment.

A delicious summer collation of ice cream, strawberries and cake was served and a big bowl of lemonade proved most refreshing.

Misses Gladys Downs, Helen Smith and Mrs. Harry Sollars assisted the hostesses and Mrs. Baker in the cordial hospitalities of the evening.

Those present were:

Misses Jennie Freshour, Dora McClain, Ethyl Pope, Gladys Downs, Beulah Bonecutter, Hazel Rice, Helen Smith, Gladys McCord, Clara Crone, Mrs. Jesse Reynolds, Hazel Patterson, Mrs. Gilbert Freshour, Messrs. Owen Riley, Ervin Hynes, Raymond Zimmerman, Charles Burke, Edgar Campbell, Harvey Porter, Lester Taylor, Jesse Reynolds, Charlie Crone, Floyd Crone, Harry Nutt, Arthur Freshour, Wm. Crone, Raymond Miller, Wayne Elliott, Edward Elliott, Gilbert Freshour, Neil Hoppess, Frank McCafferty, Glenn Davis, Russel Mark, Chas. Garringer.

Two popular young people south of town were united in marriage by Rev. J. Vernon Stone Monday afternoon at three o'clock at Grace M. E. parsonage.

The bride was Miss Georgia Campbell, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell.

The bridegroom was Mr. Forest Gilmer, a well known young farmer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilmer.

The bride looked very smart in a tailored suit of midnight blue, with waist of white shadow lace; white hat and gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer will make their home with the bridegroom's parents, four miles south of town—the son engaging in farming with his father. Their marriage is eliciting the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

A merry house party at "Sweet Briar Ridge" this week includes Mr. and Mrs. Willard Willis; Mrs. Conrad Schweitzer of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Verdun Welch of Monticello, Iowa; Miss Ruth Slavens, New York; Miss Nina Dahl; Messrs. Chas. Slavens, Greenfield; Robert Willis, Fairbanks, Alaska; Winchell Craig. Miss Mary Dahl and Mr. Donald McLean of Greenfield, joined the party for the day.

Miss Doris McFadden again entertained at her home on Court street with an extremely pretty morning party, Tuesday from 10:30 to 12:00 a. m., to present her house guests, Misses Bernice Logan of Swarthmore, Pa., Elizabeth Thomas and Helen Beale of Mt. Sterling, to the younger society set of Washington.

About thirty guests looked striking in smart morning sport suits and picture hats.

Miss Logan, who pleased the guests so much Monday night, again generously contributed several contralto solos and Jean Worthington and Anna Lee McFadden served punch and wafers.

The out of town guests were Misses Mary and Anna Shouvin and Mrs. Dan Shouvin of Springfield, Miss Lena Koontz of Dayton, Miss Regina Tyner of Marion, Ohio and Miss Winifred Hamilton of Kankakee, Illinois.

WEDNESDAY — HOUSE PETERS in THE HAND OF PERIL

SOME MAY NOT TAKE THE OATH

If a Real Invasion of Mexico Becomes Necessary.

ARMY OFFICIALS AIR VIEWS

Feel That Many Members of the Militia Are Unwilling to Serve in Mexico and Will Shrink From Taking the New Oath—Hay Resolution Empowers President to Draft Guardsmen For Service On Foreign Soil.

Washington, June 20.—While under the present law the national guard can be required to turn out for duty on the border, it is feared by army officers that many of the militiamen will shrink from taking the new oath, as they are averse to serving in Mexico. It is therefore anticipated that a situation will arise in which part of the national guard will prefer to guard their present states, while others will be willing to federalize.

In view of this outlook there are many army officials who believe that if a real invasion of Mexico becomes necessary the administration will sooner or later have to issue a call for volunteers, as was the case in the Spanish-American war, and organize a voluntary army entirely apart from the national guard.

Although responses received from the governors of the various states promised quick compliance with the president's call, it is feared that the same enthusiasm will not mark the attitude of the thousands of men with families now in the national guard who are called upon to report, and officials of the war department are already anticipating a repetition of the scenes in the early days of the Spanish-American war, where congressmen were swarming the war department in efforts to get constituents absolved.

Chairman Hay of the military affairs committee will ask unanimous consent in the house today for the immediate consideration of a joint resolution authorizing the president to draft the national guard "for service on foreign soil." The purpose of the resolution is to make the national guard of the country available for service in Mexico, should a large scale invasion become necessary.

Under existing law the president has authority only to call out the state troops to repel invasion and can not require them to go outside the territorial limits of the United States. It was to get around this constitution prohibition that congress passed the new army organization bill, recently signed by the president, to "federalize" the national guard through the process of a double oath, which will obligate those taking it to bear allegiance to the federal government as well as to the governments of their respective states.

When General Funston will begin calling for the state troops for actual duty on the border is not known definitely, although it is assumed much will depend on developments along the frontier. They will be held at their mobilization points until they are recruited up to full strength. It is expected that if the situation demands he will call for so many troops from time to time, the war department selecting those in the best state of preparedness, as reported by the several department commanders.

Army officers anticipate that it will be necessary to prosecute by court-martial thousands of national guardsmen throughout the country who refuse to turn out at all.

AMERICANS SHOT WHEN FIRE OPENS

Conflicting Reports Concerning Affair at Mazatlan.

Washington, June 20.—Coincident with the report that a party of American blue jackets from the United States gunboat Annapolis had exchanged shots with Carranzistas at Mazatlan, it became known that no fewer than twenty-four American warships are en route for activity in Mexican waters. The clash at Mazatlan was reported to the navy department by Rear Admiral Winslow. The trouble resulted from an attempt to send a launch ashore to parley with the Mexican officials. The blue jackets were not permitted to land and two American officers who did land were made prisoners by the Mazatlan authorities. They were Ensign E. O. Kessing of Indiana and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Mowatt of Newport.

The launch was fired on by the Mexicans and the crew returned the fire. The Mexican fire gravely wounded Boatswain Mate I. M. Laughier of Jackson, Tex. The return fire of the crew killed or wounded about six Mexicans.

According to the Mexican embassy here, the American blue jackets attempted to land and were advised that the authorities would not permit them to come ashore. While discussion was going on an intoxicated Japanese, who was with the Carranzistas, fired at the launch. This precipitated the return fire, but no mention is made of the casualties on either side. It is added that the two American naval officers were released and permitted to return to their ship after explanations.

Not only Mazatlan, but Guaymas and all cities on the Mexican Pacific coast, are becoming hot-beds of anti-Americanism, according to messages received by Americans having business connections in these cities.

Aside from the rioting reported in Mazatlan, posters have been posted in Guaymas, the messages say, calling all Mexicans to arms. The posters are being sent throughout the interior also. Mexican authorities have ordered all able-bodied Americans taken prisoner and intend to disarm all foreigners in the Yaqui valley.

AN EVIDENCE OF TENSION

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., June 20.—As an evidence of the tension the present situation is causing along the border, General Jacinto Trevino, military commander of the state of Chihuahua, issued orders against the wholesale flight of Mexicans to the United States. The order forbids Mexicans permission to quit the country with their families. Many Mexican families appear to think it would be safer in the United States than in Mexico in the event of a war between the two countries. They received with great satisfaction declarations from General George Bell, Jr., Mayor Tom Lea and Governor James Ferguson, to all Mexicans in Texas, declaring, if they did not take part in any anti-American demonstrations, they would be given every protection, even in event of war.

NEAR JUAREZ

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., June 20.—Three thousand Carranzista soldiers are scattered in small camps twelve miles south from Juarez along the Mexican Central railway and large bodies of troops are stationed along the entire route from Chihuahua City to Juarez, according to refugees from Chihuahua City. The large bodies of troops that are supposed to be arriving daily in Juarez are camping a few miles south of the city.

TRANSPORTS GO TO MEXICO

Will Take Off Any American Refugees Who Might Be Found at Ports On the East and West Coasts—Five Thousand Americans in Mexico and Fear's Expressed Concerning Their Safety.

Washington, June 20.—There are 5,000 Americans still in Mexico, including 1,000 in Mexico City, and apprehension continues to exist concerning their safety.

Admitting that popular excitement in Mexico is steadily increasing, officials of the state department declared that no steps were being taken to safeguard the Americans in Mexico City beyond warnings to them to leave the country.

At the same time steps are being taken as rapidly as possible to send army and navy transports to east and west coast ports for the purpose of taking off any American refugees who might be at these ports. Special provision is being made for the safety of Americans and other foreigners at Tampico and for the protection of the oil properties there. Approximately 2,000 Americans are at Tampico, and the British government has been particularly concerned for the safety of the British oil wells, from which Britain's navy is now getting the bulk of fuel oil being used by the English navy.

The state department had no confirmation concerning the manifestos reported to have been issued to the Mexican populace by Generals Trevino and Gonzales calling on them to enlist for the defense of Mexico against the United States. As evidencing the growing anti-American feeling in the northern states Consul Hanna, who arrived at Laredo, Tex., last week from his post at Monterey, advised the state department that Consul John R. Sullivan had decided to quit his post at Saltillo, leaving it in the hands of the British consul, and was hurrying to the border.

Contrary to the view held more or less generally in state and war department circles that it is only a question of time before the United States is fighting the whole of Mexico, in quarters close to the administration the hope is expressed that the president's action in calling out the national guard may serve to "call Carranza's bluff." It is said in these quarters that the vital factor in the situation is the attitude of Carranza and the extent to which it may be influenced by a realization that the United States is prepared to intervene should he force such action. The belief is expressed that the Mexican executive will back down long before anything like general hostilities occur.

THOUSANDS ARE HIKING AWAY

(By American Press)

Mexico City, June 20.—This city, which is now accustomed to every kind of news about the international situation, acted with its usual spirit of fatalism. The theaters, cafes and other places of amusement were patronized as usual. Americans on the streets were not molested even by unfriendly looks, although the situation was freely discussed with much curiosity.

Constitutionalists and their sympathizers organized a demonstration parading on the principal thoroughfares and listening to orators, who spoke from the balconies of the principal buildings. The demonstration was orderly, and there were no insults against the United States or Americans. The tenor of the speeches was that the Constitutional administration had done everything possible to avert a war, but that if war is inevitable all Mexicans will resist the invaders to the last.

BRIDGE BURNED

(By American Press)

Laredo, Tex., June 20.—A small bridge on the International and Great Northern railway, thirty miles east of Laredo, was burned. Texas rangers and military authorities are investigating reports that it was the work of Mexican bandits or their sympathizers. Trains into Laredo are being delayed pending reconstruction of the bridge.

SLAVS CAPTURE MORE PRISONERS

Further Progress Made By Brusiloff's Legions.

London, June 20.—Further progress and additional captures of Austro-Hungarian prisoners by the armies of General Brusiloff in Volhynia, Galicia and the Bukovina are reported in the Russian war office statement. Both the amount of ground gained and the number of prisoners taken are slight when compared with the successes of the first ten days of the new Russian offensive, but the claims are sufficient to indicate that the advance keeps up steadily, notwithstanding the strong reinforcements the Teutons have been able by this time to bring up to aid their hard pressed southern lines.

After the fall of Czernowitz, capital of Bukovina, it is believed General Brusiloff's force swept across the Pruth and are now advancing toward the River Sereth.

This river comes nearest to Czernowitz, and the fortified city of Storzynetz, defended by a strategic bridgehead similar, though less powerful, to that of Czernowitz. At this bridgehead, about thirteen miles to the southwest of Czernowitz, the Austro-Hungarians are expected to make a determined stand.

The Austrian war office reported that the Italians have assumed the offensive on many parts of the front, adding that their attacks were repulsed everywhere and that the counter movement is kept well in check. The capture of 13 officers, 354 men and five machine guns is claimed.

ALL FINISHED

(By American Press)

Washington, June 20.—Secretary of State Lansing stated that the reply to Carranza's formal note demanding a withdrawal of the American forces from Mexico has been completed. It is understood it will be presented today to Mr. Arredondo, who has an engagement to see the secretary.

The reply will refuse the demand for a withdrawal, giving as a reason the recent developments along the border and the failure of the Carranza authorities to suppress the disorders. It will severely rebuke the Carranza government for its imputations against the good faith of the United States and will serve notice again that the troops will not be withdrawn until the Carranza government has demonstrated its ability to preserve order in the northern states.

Today the cost of living has reached the high-water mark. Money has greater earning power—it costs more; that is it commands a higher rate of interest, and the investor of large or small means should see to it that his funds are so invested as to secure maximum returns, safety considered. High income is desirable but not at risk of principal.

STILL IN DOUBT

(By American Press)

New York, June 20.—The selection of a Republican national chairman who shall be acceptable to the leaders of the Progressive party as well as to the workers of the older organization is said now to be desired by Charles E. Hughes, the Republican presidential nominee.

The steering committee of the Republican national committee held its first conference with the candidate at the Hotel Astor. When it emerged former Senator W. Murray Crane declined to make any statement further than that the meeting had been merely preliminary and that the committee had adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. Mr. Hughes would not amplify this admission. "Not a single name was mentioned in connection with the chairmanship," said Senator Reed Smoot.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 20.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge came to Sagamore Hill for a conference with Colonel Roosevelt lasting an hour. Before he left he said that he believed Colonel Roosevelt would support Justice Hughes. Mr. Lodge came here immediately after conferences in New York with Justice Hughes and former Senator William Murray Crane. Mr. Crane called on Colonel Roosevelt the other day in New York, when the colonel was laid up at the Hotel Langdon with his sudden attack of pleurisy, and now it is believed that Mr. Lodge sought counsel of the colonel as the messenger of confidential tidings from Mr. Hughes.

Colonel Roosevelt would say nothing about their talk beyond acknowledging that Senator Lodge had called, but Mr. Lodge admitted, "of course, we discussed Mr. Hughes." In answer to the question as to whether the colonel would support Mr. Hughes, he said with a smile: "That is my impression."

Results (not price per gallon) decide your painting cost

Two neighbors—we'll call them John and Frank—own houses each containing 3,500 square feet of painting surface. Both decided to paint last season.

John used Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Liquid Paint, which cost him a little more per gallon than ordinary paint.

Each gallon of "High Standard" covered 350 square feet, two coats. Therefore, it required only 10 gallons of "High Standard" to paint John's house.

The paint has not begun to show signs of wear, and is good for several years yet.

"High Standard" saves you money in first cost and in the end. Ask us to prove it.

Frank thought he would save money, so bought a cheap paint—cheap per gallon.

But this paint covered only 250 square feet per gallon, two coats. Thus it required 14 gallons of cheap paint to cover Frank's house—4 gallons more than if he had used "High Standard."

Frank's house needs painting again this year—but he will use Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Paint.

METHODIST ERRORS GIVE VICTORY TO "Y"

The Y. M. C. A. nine who seem to be gaining strength with every contest lately, were able to shut out the Methodists Monday evening and to tally up three runs for themselves. The game was a pitchers' battle with the infield support of the "Y" team a shade better than that of the Methodists.

Leveck, pitching, began the game for the Methodists, but was taken out in the second after the opposing team had, through a series of walks and errors, and possibly one clean hit, scored three runs. Dawson, who took his place, did excellent work during the remainder of the game.

Melvin, pitching for the "Y" gave one of the best exhibitions of real pitching that has been seen since the series started. His powerful wing was too much for even the heaviest hitters on the Methodist team.

The lineup—Methodists: Perry c; cf; Backenstow 1b; Woods 2b, c; W. Wilson rf; Johnson 2b; Garrison ss, 3b; Dawson lf, p; Bowman cf; Leveck p; Nevins lf.

DAMAGING WORDS

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Waukegan, Ill., June 20.—Walter MacGuffee, chief of police of Lake Forest, testified today that he had talked with Will Orpet, charged with the murder of Marian Lambert, while the prisoner was in jail and that Orpet had told him that he had never heard Marian Lambert threaten suicide.

DELUDES ITS ENEMIES.

Cunning of the Castor Oil Plant in Protecting Its Seeds.

Dressing them up to look like foul tasting bugs, this plant protects her children from hungry birds. If it were not for their disguises the children might be eaten and never have a chance to grow and become big plants. The wise mother plant realizes this, hence the masquerade. It's the castor oil plant.

To the average person anything relating to castor oil is not regarded as much of a delicacy. Birds, however, think otherwise. The seeds of the plant are like candy to them.

So the mother plant schemes to protect them. When she sends them out into the world she clothes them in variegated and fantastic dress until the seeds resemble coccinella beetles. Now, if there is anything birds dislike more than anything else it is a coccinella beetle. As a result they make a wry face when they see the castor oil beans and pass them by.

These seeds are oval and about a half inch long. They grow in spiny capsules, three seeds in each capsule. To show that the castor oil plant is no newcomer on the earth, archaeologists write of finding seeds in tombs of ancient Egyptians. — Philadelphia North American.

Washington, June 20. — Special Agent Rodgers, at Mexico City, notified the State Department today that he was arranging for a special train to take Americans and other foreigners from Mexico City to Vera Cruz.

He said he would remain at his post.

There are upward of 1200 Americans in Mexico City and grave fears for their safety in event of an outbreak of hostilities is felt.

Mr. Rodgers' report told of anti-American demonstrations, and disorders, but said there was no actual attack.

CONVENTION IS SIDE LINE

Interest in Mexican Situation Over-shadows Political Game.

Columbus, O., June 20.—Interest in the Republican State Convention which is to open at Memorial Hall in Columbus tomorrow, will be somewhat overshadowed by the Mexican situation, but indications were today that attendance at the big get-together will not be seriously interfered with.

Adoption of a platform and the selection of twenty-four presidential electors, twenty-two from districts and 2 from the state at large, are the matters of business to be disposed of by the convention.

Congressman Ralph D. Cole will deliver the keynote address, claiming the Republican administration has kept the faith of its party.

FINGER PRINTS TAKEN FOR PLAYING BALL

Magistrate Fines Three Youths, Then Orders Procedure Usual With Criminals.

New York.—For having played baseball in a street in violation of an ordinance three boys were arrested recently and fined $3 apiece in the Washington heights court. Then their finger prints were taken, as if the boys were criminals.

Relatives of the prisoners did not complain of their punishment, but were indignant over the finger printing.

The boys are Walter Sharpe, seventeen, of 523 West One Hundred and Fifty-first street; John Mehrtens, sixteen, of 1887 Amsterdam avenue, and Ulrich Hofel, eighteen, of 560 West One Hundred and Sixty-first street. They were arrested in One Hundred and Fifty-first street, near Amsterdam avenue.

In court the three pleaded guilty, whereupon Magistrate Charles E. Simms ordered that their finger prints be taken and that the records be examined to see if any of them had been arrested before. He was told all had excellent reputations. Then they paid their fines and departed.

He explained he was Frank O'Neill of 139 Vineyard avenue and was on his way to appear for fighting in the street. Judge Beall later suspended sentence.

instrument which may very properly be called a whistling jug. In collections of antiquities it is called a silvador or silvio. Specimens are obtained from the ancient burial places of Peru.

One of these consists of two vases whose bodies are joined one to the other, with a hole or opening between them. The neck of one of these vases is closed, with the exception of a small opening, in which a clay pipe is inserted leading to the body of the whistle. The closed neck of this double vase is modeled into a representation of a bird's head.

When a liquid is poured into the open necked vase the air is compressed in the other, and in escaping through the narrow opening is forced into the whistle, the vibration producing the sounds.

Many of these sounds represent the notes of birds; one in the collection at the British museum imitates the notes of the robin or some other member of the thrush tribe peculiar in Peru.—Washington Star.

Rice in Ecuador.

Rice is the principal article of diet of all Ecuadorians, rich and poor. The country produces excellent rice in limited quantities and imports largely. The crop is harvested in May by stripping the grains with the hands, the average yield being twenty bushels per acre. The rice growing lands are rented to small farmers, who sell the harvested crops to town merchants. The latter in turn send the grain to the rice mill, exchanging 100 pounds of the unhulled rice, if of good quality, for 100 pounds of the hulled product. If of inferior grade a larger toll is taken. This includes storage for six months. Some of the very small growers hull their rice with a flail and winnow it with the wind. The husks are thrown away, but the remaining waste is fed to the horses.—Exchange.

All went well until he tried to stop the car. There Otto struck a snag. Just as his predicament was becoming serious, the giant butcher brought his strength into play. Leaping out, he seized the car and by sheer strength brought it to a standstill.

ARMY MEN ARE EVERYWHERE RUSHING PREPARATIONS

As Armies Face Each Other on Opposite Banks of the Historic Rio Grande, Secretary Lansing Presents Note to Mexican Ambassador Designate.

Position of This Nation Clearly Defined and Purpose Emphatically Stated—Responsibility for Consequences Placed on Carranza.

"Reluctant to Believe" Lansing Says That No Real Attempt Has Been Made to Capture the Villa Bandits By the De facto Forces.

designs of Villa and his followers, did not and does not now intend or desire that these outlaws should be captured, destroyed or dispersed by American troops, or at the request of this Government, by Mexican troops."

It concluded with the statement that if the de facto Government continues to ignore its obligation and carries out its threat to defend its territory by an appeal to arms against the American troops, the gravest consequences will follow.

Whether the result will mean war depends upon the Mexicans and General Carranza is informed citizens of both nations apparently are preparing for war.

Opposing military forces are facing each other in the border region today. Mobilization of the National Guard in every state was being rushed today.

General Carranza, in a speech at Mexico City, however, has expressed hope that hostilities may be avoided.

An ultimatum, said to be virtually a declaration of war, has been served on Commander Kavanaugh of the United States gunboat Annapolis by General Flores, Carranza governor of the state of Sinaloa, it is reported to military authorities.

The hostile stand grew out of Sunday at Mazatlan.

The Mexican government troops were reported last night marching on Del Rio, 100 miles up the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, with the intention of attacking American troops.

AMERICANS SLAUGHTERED

Brownsville, Texas, June 20.—Passengers arriving at Matamoros, opposite here today reported a rumor was current in Monterey that a party of Americans at Cerralvo, an isolated mining town in Nuevo Leon, were massacred by Mexicans.

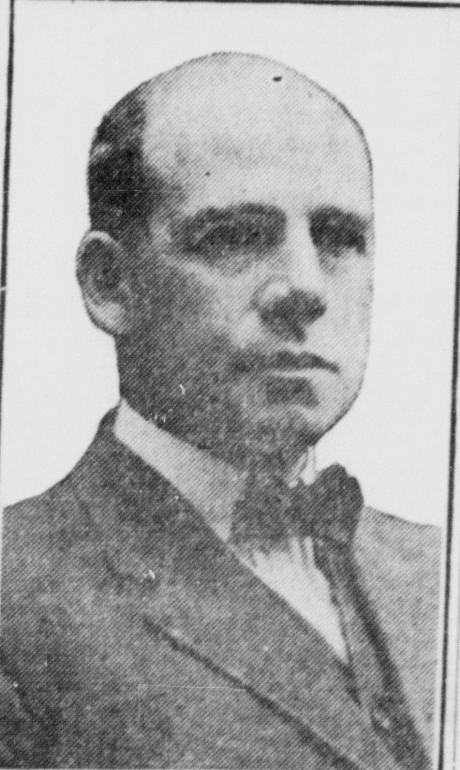

O. N. G. TO BE FIRST

Many Ohio Troops May Not Tarry at Columbus, But Hurry at Once to the Border—Change of Plans at Hand.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., June 20.—That a complete change in the Ohio National Guard mobilization plans will be necessary, as a result of General Funston's call today for a large part of the militia for immediate duty on the Mexican border, was the general expectation at the office of the Adjutant General.

However, no new orders have been issued, and Adjutant General Hough said that it was too early to make any statement as to which regiments and troops would be dispatched from Ohio first.

ADJUTANT GENERAL HOUGH
Says Camp Will Soon Be Ready to Receive Troops.

Ohio guard officers are predicting that the Buckeye state guard will get its war footing quota of men as quickly, if not more so, than any other state.

In every community where there is a military company, young men are flocking to the recruiting stations and volunteering for service.

Strenuous efforts are being made to place Camp Willis, the mobilization camp here, in readiness to receive the first out of town troops, expected to arrive Thursday.

Railroad companies have been in close touch with the Adjutant General and announce that they are ready to co-operate in any way in the quick movement of troops to the concentration camp here and from here to the Mexican border.

The Adjutant General announced today that guardsmen will be unable to "buy out" of the army until after they have served a year in the regular army.

The Ohio guardsmen will be mustered into the regular army as soon as they arrive at Columbus.

MOBILIZATION OF GUARDSMEN SATISFACTORY

Congress and Cabinet Slow to Transfer Men to Foreign Service Field, Fearing Effect Will Be Misconstrued.

Washington, June 20.—In congress today steps were being taken to render the National Guardsmen ready for any duty that may come by the adoption of a resolution making immediately effective certain sections of the new army reorganization bill.

Reports to the War Department indicate that mobilization is proceeding satisfactorily.

After a Cabinet meeting Secretary Lansing said no new steps had been decided upon and that the situation was unchanged.

Administration leaders in Congress decided not to seek immediate action on a resolution providing for making the National Guard eligible for foreign service, fearing that such a step now might be construed as a warlike act.

Two hours after the San Diego left port, the torpedo boat destroyers Hull, Truxton and Hopkins sailed for the south.

It was stated that the destroyers are under orders to overtake the San Diego.

AMERICANS MASSACRED

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Douglas, Arizona, June 20.—(Bulletin)—During anti-American demonstrations at Cananea, Mexico, the American flag, over the consulate in charge of Consul W. A. Julian, was made the target for hundreds of Mexican bullets Saturday night, according to American refugees arriving here today.

It is reported that Americans were taken from a train near Monterey and killed.

ENTRAIN ORDER EXPECTED SOON

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, June 20.—General Funston's request for National Guardsmen reached the War Department after noon and resulted in telegraphing request for information as to when the forces of certain states would be able to move.

Orders for entrainment of units ready for service were expected before night.

General Funston did not make public the exact number requested, but said he had asked for enough to provide "adequate protection" of the border.

He also withheld the names of the stations to which the guardsmen would be sent, although admitting that a considerable force would be mobilized at San Antonio.

AWAIT ORDERS TO ENTRAIN

Mobilization Camp Near Columbus Will Soon Be Ready to Receive Troops—Recruiting to Maximum War Strength Proceeding Everywhere—Soldiers May Remain in Training for a Month.

Columbus, June 20.—Awaiting orders to entrain for the state mobilization camp near this city, 6,500 Ohio militiamen are under arms. Recruiting to maximum war strength, which will raise the number of troops to 12,000, is proceeding everywhere in the state.

The mobilization camp, which probably will be named Camp Willis, is expected to be ready to receive troops Thursday or Friday, according to Adjutant General Hough. Orders to move will begin soon after that, regiment by regiment, so that the camp may be a tented military city by the close of the week.

It is expected that the troops may remain in training here for a month or more before being ordered to the concentration camp, which may be Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Engineering and surveying work at the mobilization camp has been completed. The installation of a water and sewage system was begun by the city. Street railway lines reach the camp. There will be no erection of tents, General Hough said, until after the troops arrive. The various troop units will put up their own tents.

The quartermaster's department completed a list of provisions for the soldiers. Bids were received for 200 tons of victuals, calculated to feed 8,000 troops for ten days.

General William V. McMaken of Toledo will be placed in command of the mobilization camp. Second in command will be General John C. Speaks.

Many former officers and members of the Ohio national guard offered their services to the adjutant general. Among these are General George H. Wood, Dayton, who was adjutant general under Governor Cox; Colonel Worthington Kautzman, former assistant adjutant general, and Lieutenant Colonel Charles B. Winder, former champion rifle shot of the world.

None of the companies will be permitted to leave their home stations until they have at least a minimum peace enrollment, which for infantry companies is 65 men. Practically all the companies already have this strength. Recruiting to maximum war strength, under orders from General Hough, will proceed as rapidly as possible. Recruits will be sent to the mobilization camp after the companies have left their home stations.

THINGS DOING AT THE MOVIES

PALACE.

"The Eternal Sappho," is the title of the latest Theda Bara starred Fox release and may be seen at the Palace Tuesday. This is said to be one of the most elaborately conducted plays of recent Fox production.

Lillian Walker, with both of those famous dimples working at capacity, arrives Wednesday in "Mrs. Dane's Danger," a cracking good Vita with a comedy accompaniment designated "Bittersweet."

Thursday the Palace presents the celebrated screen favorite, Maurice Costello, and other eminent Vitagraph stars, in "The Man That Couldn't Beat God," a startling drama of weird and tense situations worthy of the pen of the great Poe.

Friday Theda Bara returns in "The Serpent."

Saturday—Pathe News and varied program.

COLONIAL.

It is the general opinion of the studios that no stage star leaving the boards for the screen has proved adaptable to the requirements of the camera with greater readiness and ease than William Collier, who comes here Monday and Tuesday in the Triangle ripper, "The No-Good Guy." Collier is the title performer in the play, which concerns the many and triumphant adventures of a dissipated young son of wealth after he has been ordered to work or starve and who chooses to employ himself as a detective. Enid Markley supports Collier.

House Peters, hero of "The Great Divide" and a number of other screen masterpieces shown here, appears at the Colonial Wednesday in "The Hand of Peril," a late World offering of unusual dramatic force written by the well known author of stories of the underworld, Arthur Stringer.

Douglas Fairbanks, the prince of pep, reputed to be the liveliest man in the movies, is the feature figure for Thursday and Friday appearing in "The Good-Bad Man," a seething western, assisted Bessie Love, pretty star who supported William S. Hart in "The Aryan."

WONDERLAND.

For Wednesday of this week the Wonderland announces the presentation of the highly successful Paramount play "Jane," whose reputation lies in the incomparable skill of the talented star-team, Greenwood and Grant.

Lou Tellegan, who has completely eclipsed during his short engagement in screen play his notable achievements before the footlights, comes again to Washington Friday, appearing in "The Unknown." Mr. Tellegan's work in "The Explorer," which showed here a few weeks ago, created wide attention.

During the rest of the week the Wonderland will offer its usual program, with perhaps a feature Saturday.

HONORED WITH RE-ELECTION

Wm. M. Campbell, general manager of the Dahl-Campbell Wholesale Grocery Co., was again elected one of the directors of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, at the annual convention held in Boston last week.

You Can't Pull the Wrong One

With the Ansco Film Pack there is no possibility of pulling out the wrong tab and ruining a lot of films. Only ONE tab shows at any time, so that you cannot pull out No. 2 until No. 1 has been exposed, because the pack itself takes care of the sequence automatically. But you may take out any one exposed film and develop it without spoiling the remaining films. The

In Case of War With Mexico

Should all of the sincere endeavors of this nation to avoid conflict with the de facto government of Mexico prove to be of no avail and, either through the ignorance or the treachery of the Carranza officials, war is precipitated upon the United States the problem is a tremendous one.

Intervention in Mexico and war with all of the factions either united under one standard or separately, means, judging from present conditions, not only a long drawn out conflict, costly in life and treasure, but it means policing and governing the entire country.

The Carranza forces finally compelled, by the power of the United States armies, to see the right and do the right, will be, perhaps, more impotent to maintain a real government in Mexico than they are at this time.

It means that after the close of the conflict there will be no established government in Mexico with which to agree upon a future course and with which treaty rights can be stated and guaranteed.

The usual horrible conditions of war will be complicated by the, now apparent, necessity to take over the problem of government and work it out for the Mexican people.

The tremendous scope of such a task may be partially realized when we remember the turmoil and anarchy that has reigned in Mexico for years past.

A conflict in Mexico is one not to be entered into without full appreciation of its enormity but, it seems now, there is no other way out.

The Carranza forces cannot or will not join in our effort to break up the reign of terror and that condition having become a menace to the lives and property of American citizens even on this side of the international boundary line, there is but one course open to the United States.

It seems now that only an awakening of the de facto government can prevent a costly and long drawn out conflict on the far side of the Rio Grande river.

Czernowitz Taken

Czernowitz, the capital of the Austrian crownland, Bukovina, has been captured by the Russians.

The fall of Czernowitz has been reported a number of times during the last week, but now the claims of the Petrograd war office, in that regard, are officially admitted by Vienna.

The effect is important, mainly in that it means a breaking up the Austrian lines and the capture of positions of strategic importance in the Balkan campaign especially. It means that Bulgaria is once more menaced by the Russian armies, that Turkey in Europe has failed to receive the full measure of protection promised by the Central powers and that wavering Roumania and Greece, fearing the mailed fist of the Teuton, are free to cast their fortunes with the Entente powers if they desire to do so.

It means also that Russia has once more obtained a foothold on Austrian soil and is, once again checked only by the towering heights of the Carpathians from a rush into Austria proper.

Doubtless the attempt now will be to push back the Kaiser's forces in Russian Poland. But perhaps that prophecy may result from the memory of the former advance and Russia may, after all, continue to press forward upon the lines of demonstrated weakness.

The Traffic Laws

For their own comfort and safety—for their own "peace of mind"—as well as for the safety and comfort of other people, everyone who drives a vehicle should obtain, read and study carefully the traffic laws of the state and the ordinances of the municipality in which they live.

There are certain explicit state laws now governing traffic on the highways of the state and in the populous communities which are broad enough to provide for almost every contingency and if observed carefully will insure the vehicle driver against a crash in the congested districts or a decidedly unpleasant "run in" with the authorities.

Washington folks have learned, by absorption, some very important features about our own traffic ordinances. Vehicle drivers know now that they must go to the corners to turn and that they must keep to the right. Most of them know about tail lights, too.

The fact that almost every driver who approaches a street crossing does so hesitatingly and, if two approach a crossing together, there is either a narrow escape or a great deal of keying to see whose move it is, is because neither driver is fully sure about his privileges and his duties.

The state laws regulate traffic at intersections and each driver should know just what his duties are and act accordingly and without hesitation.

Traffic on the streets and highways has increased so tremendously in the last decade that regulation became imperative. Now that regulation has come the need for the drivers to familiarize themselves with those regulations is just as imperative.

Poetry For Today

THE REVEILLE

Hark, I hear the tramp of thousands,
And of armed men the hum;
Lo! a nation's hosts have gathered
Round the quick alarming drum
Saying, "Come,
Freemen, come!"
Ere your heritage be wasted," said
the quick alarming drum.

"Let me of my heart take counsel;
War is not of life the sun;
Who shall stay and reap the harvest
When the autumn days shall come?"
But the drum
Echoed, Come.

Death shall reap the braver harvest,"
said the solemn-sounding drum.

"But when won the coming battle,
What of profit springs therefrom?
What of conquest subjugation,
Even greater ills become?"
But the drum
Answered "Come!"

You must do the sum to prove it,"
said the Yankee-answering drum.

"What if, 'mid the cannon's thunder
Whistling shot and bustling bomb
When my brothers fall around me,
Should my heart grow cold and numb?"
But the drum
Answered, "Come!"

Better there in death united than in life a recreant. Come!"

Thus they answered—hoping, fear-
ing,
Some in faith and doubting some,
Till a trumpet-voice proclaiming
Said, "My chosen people come!"
Then the drum,
Lo! was dumb.

For the great heart of the nation,
throbbing, answered, "Lord, we come!"
—Bret Harte.

MORE MEN WANTED AT ONCE FOR DUTY WITH COMPANY M

Company Now Composed of Nearly Four Score Officers and Men—Seventy at Armory Tuesday Morning—Three Members Cannot Be Located—Recruits Urged to Waste No Time.

Company M is still marking time at the Armory in this city, and will probably not be ordered to Columbus until late Wednesday or early Thursday morning, at which time Captain Hardway expects to have between 75 and 100 men in line.

Early Tuesday morning the total number of officers and men at the armory was 70, and a number of recruits were in view for the day, so that the number was expected to reach 80 or more when the enlistments are all in for the day.

A number who had previously seen service have enlisted, and still others are hesitating but are expected to "fall in" before the Company takes its departure for Columbus. All are confident of seeing some active service on the Mexican border, and the Ohio troops will be among the first sent to the border, it is stated.

Fifteen men from Company A, Greenfield, recently disbanded, have enlisted in Company M. Several well known Greenfielders are included in the number.

Up to Tuesday morning three men of the company could not be located, having taken up work in other cities. If these men do not make their place of abode known they may be subject to court martial similar to that suffered by a number of Guards who failed to respond when the guards of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona were recently called to the colors.

At the present time the men are taking their meals at local restaurants, and will continue to do so while here. Most of the men slept in the Armory, Monday night, although a number residing in the city were allowed to sleep at home. All men are held at the Armory during the day.

Meanwhile Sergeants are busy drilling the awkward squads, and all men are being drilled several hours each day.

The men are being drilled on the streets of the city, and the work, a new departure and something not seen since the stirring days of the Spanish American War, is attracting a great deal of attention.

Major Rell G. Allen was home from Columbus for a few hours Monday evening, but returned on the night train for duty at headquarters.

The opportunity now exists for all men who have been awaiting the call to actual service before enlistment.

All men who expect to enlist are urged to do so within the next 48 hours so that when Company M departs for Columbus it will contain as large a number as possible.

The deceased was in his ninety-third year, and had been ill for many months. Mr. Rodgers was born and raised and spent most of his life in this county, where he had a great many friends who will deeply regret to learn of his demise.

Besides his son, Mr. P. L. Rodgers in this city, and daughter, Mrs. Martin, in Pomeroy, Mr. Rodgers leaves a daughter, Mrs. Rella Moore in Athens, and Mrs. Frances Stockey in Columbus.

The remains will be shipped to Greenfield where interment will take place.

YOUNG DAVIS FINED GETS OFF VERY EASY

A six months' workhouse sentence was suspended pending good behavior. The money was paid by the young man's father, and it was stated that it was not the first time the youth had been in trouble.

A large number of valuable prizes of fishing tackle of all kinds, offered by the Fish and Game Association for the largest fish caught, may now be seen on display in Craig Bros. show window, where it is attracting quite a little attention.

MAKING PLANS FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Mr. Earl L. Mast, the advance advertising man for the Washington C. H. Chautauqua is in the city.

The Chautauqua will open on July 20th, and will run for the next seven days. In the allotment of advertising which Mr. Mast brought with him are the program booklets. These booklets are very attractive and give a glimpse of what a rare treat is in store for patrons of the big chautauqua.

Mr. Wm. McClain, chairman of the committee, is in receipt of a telegram from Eugene B. Fisher, Secretary of the Lakewood, Ohio, committee. Mr. Fisher stated that their chautauqua closed Saturday night. Nearly four thousand people were in attendance to hear the San Carlo Grand Opera Co., in spite of the rain. They reported a season ticket sale of $3,000. Mr. Fisher reported the chautauqua program as the greatest ever given. It is similar to that of the Washington Chautauqua.

The superintendent in charge of the local chautauqua will be Mr. Chas. S. Pulkington. Miss Marguerite T. Bye will have charge of the Junior work which is a new feature this season. The Junior work with its excellent features will no doubt attract a large number of children.

The ticket and advertising committee will meet with Mr. Mast this evening at the office of Mr. Wm. McClain, to discuss ticket campaign and advertising features.

This year the Chautauqua will be held on the north side of the high school ground, where there is ample space for the mammoth tent.

TAX PAYING REACHES SOME $1500 PER DAY

At the present time the amount of taxes coming into the County Treasurer's office reaches about $1500 per day, and this amount is increasing steadily as the time of tax paying advances.

Those who pay taxes now are not compelled to stand in line and wait as in the case where tax paying is postponed until the last few days.

SLOW WORK ON SOUTH MAIN ST.

Work on the South Main street improvement has been moving along very slowly, the past few days, the brick having been laid from Elm to north of Circle avenue.

The work of applying the grouting to that part where the brick have been laid, is now under way.

ANIMAL SWIMMERS.

The Best of All. Though Not the Swiftest, is the Polar Bear.

Nearly all animals are better swimmers than man and take to the water naturally, while he has to learn to propel himself. The rhinoceros and hippopotamus are wonderful swimmers and divers, while the Indian elephant crosses great rivers with heavy loads. The elk and the reindeer are first class swimmers. The elk keeps his head above water and crosses directly from bank to bank to avoid turning. The reindeer, on the other hand, turns as often as he likes, keeping his head only a little above the surface.

But of all swimmers of all climes the best, though not the swiftest, is the polar bear, who passes half his time in the water swimming and diving. His swimming power is nothing short of miraculous if it be remembered that the water in the regions he frequents is invariably cold and that cold is normally prohibitive to good swimming. There are bears that can swim from forty to fifty kilometers without great effort.

One of the swiftest swimming animals is the squirrel. A sportsman on one occasion, having at hand a squirrel born in captivity, which had never seen water, wanted to see if it could swim and took it with him in a rowboat to the center of a lake. The squirrel turned toward the bank, head and paws above the water, back and tail underneath it, and began to swim so rapidly that it was with the greatest difficulty that the man recovered it when it reached the shallow water near the land. It is said that even many nonaquatic birds will swim like ducks if an attempt be made to drown them.—Pearson's Weekly.

In Social Circles

No less enjoyable than any one of the series that has preceded it was the party given by Miss Doris McFadden, Monday night, in compliment to her charming guests, Misses Elizabeth Thomas and Helen Beale of Mt. Sterling and Miss Bernice Logan of Swarthmore, Penn., all of them being school friends of Miss McFadden at Western College.

There were also numbered among the guests a pretty quartette of Wells College girls who make up Miss Dorothy Fullerton's house party and Miss Lillian Davis and her guest from Wilson College. Many pleasant reminiscences of school life added to the zest of the evening.

Miss Logan charmed the company during the evening by her mellow contralto voice and her pleasing personality.

A delicious collation was served in which Mrs. L. M. McFadden assisted her daughter.

Other out of town guests were Miss Esther Dahl, of Duluth, Minn.; Miss Dorothy Land of Richmond, Ind.; Miss Charlotte Flindt of Spencer, Iowa, and Miss Mala Manners, of Frenchtown, N. J. and Mr. Leonard Haines of Bloomington.

Mrs. Charles Browne gave a beautiful party Monday afternoon in honor of the first birthday of her youngest son Roy.

It was a family party, the mothers finding it quite necessary to accompany the tiny tots.

The special feature of the party was the birthday feast, for which a most beautifully decorated table had been prepared in the dining room. A pink and white color scheme was carried out in exquisite baskets filled with roses and one pink candle burned on the birthday cake.

The souvenirs were cunning chickens and owls.

Those who participated were: Mrs. George Browne of Cincinnati; Mrs. C. F. Bonham, Mrs. George Worrell and little daughter (Claribel); Mrs. Ralph C. Browne and baby daughter Elizabeth Ann of Cincinnati; Mrs. H. C. Teachnor and daughter Woldeane, Mrs. H. L. Stitt and little son Robert; Mrs. Carl Mallow and May Hammond.

Misses Ilo and Yvonne Baker entertained forty young people at a most delightful affair of Saturday evening at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Baker.

A profusion of roses and peonies were beautifully arranged in decoration throughout the rooms.

Clever contests, a variety of games and music had been provided for the pleasure of the guests by the bright young hostesses, and the evening passed all too quickly in a round of merriment.

A delicious summer collation of ice cream, strawberries and cake was served and a big bowl of lemonade proved most refreshing.

Misses Gladys Downs, Helen Smith and Mrs. Harry Sollars assisted the hostesses and Mrs. Baker in the cordial hospitalities of the evening.

Those present were:

Misses Jennie Freshour, Dora McClain, Ethyl Pope, Gladys Downs, Beulah Bonecutter, Hazel Rice, Helen Smith, Gladys McCord, Clara Crone, Mrs. Jesse Reynolds, Hazel Patterson, Mrs. Gilbert Freshour, Messrs. Owen Riley, Ervin Hynes, Raymond Zimmerman, Charles Burke, Edgar Campbell, Harvey Porter, Lester Taylor, Jesse Reynolds, Charlie Crone, Floyd Crone, Harry Nutt, Arthur Freshour, Wm. Two popular young people south of town were united in marriage by Rev. J. Vernon Stone Monday afternoon at three o'clock at Grace M. E. parsonage.

The bride was Miss Georgia Campbell, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell.

The bridegroom was Mr. Forest Gilmer, a well known young farmer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilmer.

The bride looked very smart in a tailored suit of midnight blue, with waist of white shadow lace; white hat and gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer will make their home with the bridegroom's parents, four miles south of town—the son engaging in farming with his father. Their marriage is eliciting the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

A merry house party at "Sweet Briar Ridge" this week includes Mr. and Mrs. Willard Willis; Mrs. Conrad Schweitzer of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Verdun Welch of Monticello, Iowa; Miss Ruth Slavens, New York; Miss Nina Dahl; Messrs. Chas. Slavens, Greenfield; Robert Willis, Fairbanks, Alaska; Winchell Craig. Miss Mary Dahl and Mr. Donald McLean of Greenfield, joined the party for the day.

Miss Doris McFadden again entertained at her home on Court street with an extremely pretty morning party, Tuesday from 10:30 to 12:00 a. m., to present her house guests, Misses Bernice Logan of Swarthmore, Pa., Elizabeth Thomas and Helen Beale of Mt. Sterling, to the younger society set of Washington.

About thirty guests looked striking in smart morning sport suits and picture hats.

Miss Logan, who pleased the guests so much Monday night, again generously contributed several contralto solos and Jean Worthington and Anna Lee McFadden served punch and wafers.

The out of town guests were Misses Mary and Anna Shouvin and Mrs. Dan Shouvin of Springfield, Miss Lena Koontz of Dayton, Miss Regina Tyner of Marion, Ohio and Miss Winifred Hamilton of Kankakee, Illinois.

WEDNESDAY — HOUSE PETERS in THE HAND OF PERIL

SOME MAY NOT TAKE THE OATH

If a Real Invasion of Mexico Becomes Necessary.

ARMY OFFICIALS AIR VIEWS

Feel That Many Members of the Militia Are Unwilling to Serve in Mexico and Will Shrink From Taking the New Oath—Hay Resolution Empowers President to Draft Guardsmen For Service On Foreign Soil.

Washington, June 20.—While under the present law the national guard can be required to turn out for duty on the border, it is feared by army officers that many of the militiamen will shrink from taking the new oath, as they are averse to serving in Mexico. It is therefore anticipated that a situation will arise in which part of the national guard will prefer to guard their present states, while others will be willing to federalize.

In view of this outlook there are many army officials who believe that if a real invasion of Mexico becomes necessary the administration will sooner or later have to issue a call for volunteers, as was the case in the Spanish-American war, and organize a voluntary army entirely apart from the national guard.

Although responses received from the governors of the various states promised quick compliance with the president's call, it is feared that the same enthusiasm will not mark the attitude of the thousands of men with families now in the national guard who are called upon to report, and officials of the war department are already anticipating a repetition of the scenes in the early days of the Spanish-American war, where congressmen were swarming the war department in efforts to get constituents absolved.

Chairman Hay of the military affairs committee will ask unanimous consent in the house today for the immediate consideration of a joint resolution authorizing the president to draft the national guard "for service on foreign soil." The purpose of the resolution is to make the national guard of the country available for service in Mexico, should a large scale invasion become necessary.

Under existing law the president has authority only to call out the state troops to repel invasion and can not require them to go outside the territorial limits of the United States. It was to get around this constitution prohibition that congress passed the new army organization bill, recently signed by the president, to "federalize" the national guard through the process of a double oath, which will obligate those taking it to bear allegiance to the federal government as well as to the governments of their respective states.

When General Funston will begin calling for the state troops for actual duty on the border is not known definitely, although it is assumed much will depend on developments along the frontier. They will be held at their mobilization points until they are recruited up to full strength. It is expected that if the situation demands he will call for so many troops from time to time, the war department selecting those in the best state of preparedness, as reported by the several department commanders.

Army officers anticipate that it will be necessary to prosecute by court-martial thousands of national guardsmen throughout the country who refuse to turn out at all.

AMERICANS SHOT WHEN FIRE OPENS

Conflicting Reports Concerning Affair at Mazatlan.

Washington, June 20.—Coincident with the report that a party of American blue jackets from the United States gunboat Annapolis had exchanged shots with Carranzistas at Mazatlan, it became known that no fewer than twenty-four American warships are en route for activity in Mexican waters. The clash at Mazatlan was reported to the navy department by Rear Admiral Winslow. The trouble resulted from an attempt to send a launch ashore to parley with the Mexican officials. The blue jackets were not permitted to land and two American officers who did land were made prisoners by the Mazatlan authorities. They were Ensign E. O. Kessing of Indiana and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Mowatt of Newport. The launch was fired on by the Mexicans and the crew returned the fire. The Mexican fire gravely wounded Boatswain Mate I. M. Laughter of Jackson, Tex. The return fire of the crew killed or wounded about six Mexicans.

According to the Mexican embassy here, the American blue jackets attempted to land and were advised that the authorities would not permit them to come ashore. While discussion was going on an intoxicated Japanese, who was with the Carranzistas, fired at the launch. This precipitated the return fire, but no mention is made of the casualties on either side. It is added that the two American naval officers were released and permitted to return to their ship after explanations.

Not only Mazatlan, but Guaymas and all cities on the Mexican Pacific coast, are becoming hot-beds of anti-Americanism, according to messages received by Americans having business connections in these cities.

Aside from the rioting reported in Mazatlan, posters have been posted in Guaymas, the messages say, calling all Mexicans to arms. The posters are being sent throughout the interior also. Mexican authorities have ordered all able-bodied Americans taken prisoner and intend to disarm all foreigners in the Yaqui valley.

AN EVIDENCE OF TENSION

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., June 20.—As an evidence of the tension the present situation is causing along the border, General Jacinto Trevino, military commander of the state of Chihuahua, issued orders against the wholesale flight of Mexicans to the United States. The order forbids Mexicans permission to quit the country with their families. Many Mexican families appear to think it would be safer in the United States than in Mexico in the event of a war between the two countries. They received with great satisfaction declarations from General George Bell, Jr., Mayor Tom Lea and Governor James Ferguson, to all Mexicans in Texas, declaring, if they did not take part in any anti-American demonstrations, they would be given every protection, even in event of war.

NEAR JUAREZ

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., June 20.—Three thousand Carranzista soldiers are scattered in small camps twelve miles south from Juarez along the Mexican Central railway and large bodies of troops are stationed along the entire route from Chihuahua City to Juarez, according to refugees from Chihuahua City. The large bodies of troops that are supposed to be arriving daily in Juarez are camping a few miles south of the city.

TRANSPORTS GO TO MEXICO

Will Take Off Any American Refugees Who Might Be Found at Ports On the East and West Coasts—Five Thousand Americans in Mexico and Fears Expressed Concerning Their Safety.

Washington, June 20.—There are 5,000 Americans still in Mexico, including 1,000 in Mexico City, and apprehension continues to exist concerning their safety.

Admitting that popular excitement in Mexico is steadily increasing, officials of the state department declared that no steps were being taken to safeguard the Americans in Mexico City beyond warnings to them to leave the country.

At the same time steps are being taken as rapidly as possible to send army and navy transports to east and west coast ports for the purpose of taking off any American refugees who might be at these ports. Special provision is being made for the safety of Americans and other foreigners at Tampico and for the protection of the oil properties there. Approximately 2,000 Americans are at Tampico, and the British government has been particularly concerned for the safety of the British oil wells, from which Britain's navy is now getting the bulk of fuel oil being used by the English navy.

The state department had no confirmation concerning the manifestos reported to have been issued to the Mexican populace by Generals Trevino and Gonzales calling on them to enlist for the defense of Mexico against the United States. As evidencing the growing anti-American feeling in the northern states Consul Hanna, who arrived at Laredo, Tex., last week from his post at Monterey, advised the state department that Consul John R. Silliman had decided to quit his post at Saltillo, leaving it in the hands of the British consul, and was hurrying to the border.

Contrary to the view held more or less generally in state and war department circles that it is only a question of time before the United States is fighting the whole of Mexico, in quarters close to the administration the hope is expressed that the president's action in calling out the national guard may serve to "call Carranza's bluff." It is said in these quarters that the vital factor in the situation is the attitude of Carranza and the extent to which it may be influenced by a realization that the United States is prepared to intervene should he force such action. The belief is expressed that the Mexican executive will back down long before anything like general hostilities occur.

It is expected that even if a considerable force is eventually sent across the border the administration would still be disposed to withhold general intervention if, by defeat of any considerable number of Carranzista forces at the outset of the movement, the Mexican authorities could be brought to terms. The war department received from General Funston a report to the effect that conditions generally along the border seemed much quieter as a result of the president's action in calling out the national guard.

THOUSANDS ARE HIKING AWAY

(By American Press)

Mexico City, June 20.—This city, which is now accustomed to every kind of news about the international situation, acted with its usual spirit of fatalism. The theaters, cafes and other places of amusement were patronized as usual. Americans on the streets were not molested even by unfriendly looks, although the situation was freely discussed with much curiosity.

Constitutionalists and their sympathizers organized a demonstration parading on the principal thoroughfares and listening to orators, who spoke from the balconies of the principal buildings. The demonstration was orderly, and there were no insults against the United States or Americans. The tenor of the speeches was that the Constitutionalist administration had done everything possible to avert a war, but that if war is inevitable all Mexicans will resist the invaders to the last.

BRIDGE BURNED

(By American Press)

Laredo, Tex., June 20.—A small bridge on the International and Great Northern railway, thirty miles east of Laredo, was burned. Texas rangers and military authorities are investigating reports that it was the work of Mexican bandits or their sympathizers. Trains into Laredo are being delayed pending reconstruction of the bridge.

SLAVS CAPTURE MORE PRISONERS

Further Progress Made By Brusiloff's Legions.

London, June 20.—Further progress and additional captures of Austro-Hungarian prisoners by the armies of General Brusiloff in Volhynia, Galicia and the Bukovina are reported in the Russian war office statement. Both the amount of ground gained and the number of prisoners taken are slight when compared with the successes of the first ten days of the new Russian offensive, but the claims are sufficient to indicate that the advance keeps up steadily, notwithstanding the strong reinforcements the Teutons have been able by this time to bring up to aid their hard pressed southern lines.

After the fall of Czernowitz, capital of Bukovina, it is believed General Brusiloff's force swept across the Pruth and are now advancing toward the River Sereth.

This river comes nearest to Czernowitz, and the fortified city of Storzynetz, defended by a strategic bridgehead similar, though less powerful, to that of Czernowitz. At this bridgehead, about thirteen miles to the southwest of Czernowitz, the Austro-Hungarians are expected to make a determined stand.

The Austrian war office reported that the Italians have assumed the offensive on many parts of the front, adding that their attacks were repulsed everywhere and that the counter movement is kept well in check. The capture of 13 officers, 354 men and five machine guns is claimed.

ALL FINISHED

(By American Press)

Washington, June 20.—Secretary of State Lansing stated that the reply to Carranza's formal note demanding a withdrawal of the American forces from Mexico has been completed. It is understood it will be presented today to Mr. Arredondo, who has an engagement to see the secretary.

The reply will refuse the demand for a withdrawal, giving as a reason the recent developments along the border and the failure of the Carranza authorities to suppress the disorders. It will severely rebuke the Carranza government for its imputations against the good faith of the United States and will serve notice again that the troops will not be withdrawn until the Carranza government has demonstrated its ability to preserve order in the northern states.

New York, June 20.—The selection of a Republican national chairman who shall be acceptable to the leaders of the Progressive party as well as to the workers of the older organization is said now to be desired by Charles E. Hughes, the Republican presidential nominee.

The steering committee of the Republican national committee held its first conference with the candidate at the Hotel Astor. When it emerged former Senator W. Murray Crane declined to make any statement further than that the meeting had been merely preliminary and that the committee had adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. Mr. Hughes would not amplify this admission. "Not a single name was mentioned in connection with the chairmanship," said Senator Reed Smoot.

POLING THE KEYNOTER

Chicago, June 20.—Announcement was made at the headquarters of the Prohibition national committee of the selection of Daniel A. T. R. WEVERS

(By American Press)

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 20.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge came to Sagamore Hill for a conference with Colonel Roosevelt lasting an hour. Before he left he said that he believed Colonel Roosevelt would support Justice Hughes. Mr. Lodge came here immediately after conferences in New York with Justice Hughes and former Senator William Murray Crane. Mr. Crane called on Colonel Roosevelt the other day in New York, when the colonel was laid up at the Hotel Langdon with his sudden attack of pleurisy, and now it is believed that Mr. Lodge sought counsel of the colonel as the messenger of confidential tidings from Mr. Hughes.

Colonel Roosevelt would say nothing about their talk beyond acknowledging that Senator Lodge had called, but Mr. Lodge admitted, "of course, we discussed Mr. Hughes." In answer to the question as to whether the colonel would support Mr. Hughes, he said with a smile: "That is my impression."

Each gallon of "High Standard" covered 850 square feet, two coats. Therefore, it required only 10 gallons of "High Standard" to paint John's house. The paint has not begun to show signs of wear, and is good for several years yet.

MISS FRAYSER AGAIN AT S. S. CONVENTION

Said to Be Finest Woman Story Teller in the World.

To be the finest woman story teller in America is a distinction of no small moment, and yet it rests so lightly upon Miss Nannie-Lee Frayser of Louisville, Ky., that one has actually to hear her in the rare exercise of her art to recognize the justice of the critical dictum which gives her that distinction.

Primarily Miss Frayser is an educator and is of a choice coterie of spirits which has made the Richmond school at Louisville famous throughout the United States. She has for years, however, been active in Sunday school work, particularly in the Junior

The Y. M. C. A. nine who seem to be gaining strength with every contest lately, were able to shut out the Methodists Monday evening and to tally up three runs for themselves. The game was a pitchers' battle with the infield support of the "Y" team a shade better than that of the Methodists.

Leveck, pitching, began the game for the Methodists, but was taken out in the second after the opposing team had, through a series of walks and errors, and possibly one clean hit, scored three runs. Dawson, who took his place, did excellent work during the remainder of the game.

Melvin, pitching for the "Y" gave one of the best exhibitions of real pitching that has been seen since the series started. His powerful wing was too much for even the heaviest hitters on the Methodist team.

The lineup—Methodists: Perry c; cf; Backenstow 1b; Woods 2b, c; W. Wilson rf; Johnson 2b; Garrison ss, 3b; Dawson lf, p; Bowman cf; Leveck p; Nevins lf.

DAMAGING WORDS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Waukegan, Ill., June 20.—Walter MacGuffe, chief of police of Lake Forest, testified today that he had talked with Will Orpet, charged with the murder of Marian Lambert, while the prisoner was in jail and that Orpet had told him that he had never heard Marian Lambert threaten suicide.

DELUDES ITS ENEMIES.

Cunning of the Castor Oil Plant in Protecting Its Seeds.

Dressing them up to look like foul tasting bugs, this plant protects her children from hungry birds. If it were not for their disguises the children might be eaten and never have a chance to grow and become big plants. The wise mother plant realizes this, hence the masquerade. It's the castor oil plant.

To the average person anything relating to castor oil is not regarded as much of a delicacy. Birds, however, think otherwise. The seeds of the plant are like candy to them.

So the mother plant schemes to protect them. When she sends them out into the world she clothes them in variegated and fantastic dress until the seeds resemble coccinella beetles.

Now, if there is anything birds dislike more than anything else it is a coccinella beetle. As a result they make a wry face when they see the castor oil beans and pass them by.

These seeds are oval and about a half inch long. They grow in spiny capsules, three seeds in each capsule. To show that the castor oil plant is no newcomer on the earth, archaeologists write of finding seeds in tombs of ancient Egyptians.—Philadelphia North American.

RODGERS WILL STAY ON DUTY

Special Agent Arranges for Train to Take Americans From Mexico City.

He said he would remain at his post.

There are upward of 1200 Americans in Mexico City and grave fears for their safety in event of an outbreak of hostilities is felt.

Mr. Rodgers' report told of anti-American demonstrations, and disorders, but said there was no actual attack.

CONVENTION IS SIDE LINE

Interest in Mexican Situation Over-shadows Political Game.

Columbus, O., June 20.—Interest in the Republican State Convention which is to open at Memorial Hall in Columbus tomorrow, will be somewhat overshadowed by the Mexican situation, but indications were today that attendance at the big get-together will not be seriously interfered with.

Adoption of a platform and the selection of twenty-four presidential electors, twenty-two from districts and 2 from the state at large, are the matters of business to be disposed of by the convention.

Congressman Ralph D. Cole will deliver the keynote address, claiming the Republican administration has kept the faith of its party.

FINGER PRINTS TAKEN FOR PLAYING BALL

Magistrate Fines Three Youths, Then Orders Procedure Usual With Criminals.

New York.—For having played baseball in a street in violation of an ordinance three boys were arrested recently and fined $3 apiece in the Washington heights court. Then their finger prints were taken, as if the boys were criminals.

Relatives of the prisoners did not complain of their punishment, but were indignant over the finger printing.

The boys are Walter Sharpe, seventeen, of 523 West One Hundred and Fifty-first street; John Mehtens, sixteen, of 1887 Amsterdam avenue, and Ulrich Hofel, eighteen, of 500 West One Hundred and Sixty-first street. They were arrested in One Hundred and Fifty-first street, near Amsterdam avenue.

In court the three pleaded guilty, whereupon Magistrate Charles E. Simms ordered that their finger prints be taken and that the records be examined to see if any of them had been arrested before. He was told all had excellent reputations. Then they paid their fines and departed.

COURT REWARDS BRAVE ACT.

Suspends Sentence on Youth Who Stopped a Runaway.

Yonkers, N. Y.—City Judge Beall on his way to court saw a young man dash into the street, grasp the bridle of a runaway horse and bring it to a standstill after being dragged halfway across Getty square.

The judge ran out to shake hands and compliment the youth for his bravery.

"Thanks, judge," the man said. Then he laughed. "I hope you will remember this when you get me in court."

He explained he was Frank O'Neill of 139 Vineyard avenue and was on his way to appear for fighting in the street. Judge Beall later suspended sentence.

argument which may very properly be called a whistling jug. In collections of antiquities it is called a silvador or silvio. Specimens are obtained from the ancient burial places of Peru.

One of these consists of two vases whose bodies are joined one to the other, with a hole or opening between them. The neck of one of these vases is closed, with the exception of a small opening, in which a clay pipe is inserted leading to the body of the whistle. The closed neck of this double vase is modeled into a representation of a bird's head.

When a liquid is poured into the open necked vase the air is compressed in the other, and in escaping through the narrow opening is forced into the whistle, the vibration producing the sounds.

Many of these sounds represent the notes of birds; one in the collection at the British museum imitates the notes of the robin or some other member of the thrush tribe peculiar in Peru.—Washington Star.

Big Butcher's Strength.
Phillipsburg, Pa.—Otto Huffman, manager of a meat market, bought an automobile recently and after making a trial trip and receiving instructions undertook its management. All went well until he tried to stop the car. There Otto struck a snag. Just as his predicament was becoming serious, the giant butcher brought his strength into play. Leaping out, he seized the car and by sheer strength brought it to a standstill.
